

Construction Technology

Stanley Lawrence

Submitted by Timmy Palmer

Stanley is a true team player who will go out of his way to help anyone around him that needs help even if it means that he doesn't complete his work. He is a hard worker who strives for excellence in all that he does and always has a great attitude. I appreciate his humility. Even though he might know something he still respectfully listens and will add additional information when necessary. Stanley, thank you for all the help and support that you have contributed to our Construction Technology program.